1. Skilled Visas (Points-tested)

Australia's points-tested skilled visa program is designed to attract skilled workers for occupations in-demand. Eligibility is assessed through a points test, with points awarded for factors such as age, English proficiency, qualifications, skilled employment and other recognised criteria.

The program is administered via SkillSelect, an online Expression of Interest (EOI) system through which candidates may be invited to apply once they meet the required pass mark.

The program offers three visa options under this Points test system:

- The Skilled Independent (Subclass 189) visa.
- The Skilled Nominated (Subclass 190) visa.
- The Skilled Work Regional (Provisional) (Subclass 491) visa.

The steps typically involved in Points-Tested Skilled visa applications include:

The Key Requirements for the three visas include:

- You must be under 45 years of age.
- You must have a skilled occupation on the relevant Skilled List.
- You must have a positive skills assessment.
- You must be able to demonstrate a minimum of 'Competent English'.
- You must obtain the minimum Points Test score at the time of invitation to apply for the visa.
- You must obtain an invitation to apply for the visa.

The Key Differences between the three visas include:

	Subclass 189	Subclass 190	Subclass 491
Nomination / Sponsorship	Not required	State/Territory nomination	State/Territory nomination or eligible relative sponsorship
Occupation list	MLTSSL	MLTSSL or STSOL	MLTSSL, STSOL or ROL MLTSSL (for relative-sponsorship)
Visa type	Permanent	Permanent	Provisional (pathway to PR after 3 years)
Regional requirement	No	No	Yes – must live, work, and study in a designated regional area after visa grant
Health & Character	✓	✓	✓

To be nominated by a State or Territory, candidates must meet specific state-based criteria in addition to the general visa requirements. These vary depending on the jurisdiction and may include conditions such as a minimum period of work experience, higher English language scores, or specific residency prerequisites, among others.
